

Why Equitable Transit Oriented Development (ETOD)?

Metro Atlanta's car-centric transportation model limits our economic prosperity and regional competitiveness. Those limitations are experienced more deeply by lower income households and communities. ETOD levels the playing field by:

- supporting and creating retail and commercial expansion in under served communities
- concentrating daily needs and making them more accessible to residents
- lowering unemployment by linking people to jobs and education
- preserving and promoting mixed-income communities

Our Core Activities

Convene We are committed to partnering with others and facilitating the conversations that result in positive change.

Educate We engage communities affected by transit development to ensure their voices are heard and included in decision making processes.

Advocate We promote policies and practices that drive responsible land use and improve transit connectivity for people throughout metro Atlanta.

Technical Assistance We develop tools to inform, catalyze and support Equitable TOD that reflects sound business principles and the desires of residents.

Project Finance We seek to leverage financing solutions that encourage development partners to include Equitable TOD principles and design in their projects.

Focused on Accessibility

The TransFormation Alliance's priority is ensuring that the value of integrating transit into development is made accessible to all residents of a community, not just some.

Atlanta ranks 91st out of the 100 largest metro regions for job access via public transportation.

A typical family in the Atlanta region spends 49% of their annual income on transportation & housing
